

7 MSc students given technical support/ placements for dissertation projects

2 PhD projects supported

3 physical models used across the UK to demonstrate river and coastal flood risk

1 new open access online catalogue of nature based flood risk management projects

9 bursaries and scholarships awarded to postgraduate students

14 outputs (reports, papers, posters, presentations, data and code) published on our website

12 collaborative research projects delivered with nine universities

Over

1,800

hours of research and education activities funded

21,059

people have viewed our video of the hydraulic flume demonstration (Since 13 September 2013)

